

Elect Patterson to Head County Board

Wins in Voting Over A. K. Gates, C. L. Blackman

New Chairman
Reappoints Lehman
To Health Board

Howard Patterson, Tate township Republican, today headed the Saline County Board of Supervisors. Patterson was elected chairman of the group Saturday at the regular April organization meeting.

There were three Republicans in the race for chairman, the first time veteran members could recall when there were three candidates for the post at the time of voting.

Patterson won over A. K. Gates of Cottage township and C. L. Blackman of Stonefort and one of his first significant actions after being elected was the reappointment of Dr. D. A. Lehman of Harrisburg to the board of directors of the Egyptian Health department. Dr. Lehman, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, has been a member of the board since its inception.

Three Nominated

When motions were asked by the clerk for nominations for chairman to succeed William Alfred Smith, Galatia Republican, Raymond Field of Carrier Mills nominated Blackman, Roy Moore of Eldorado nominated Gates and Smith nominated Patterson.

The board, comprised of 14 Republicans, seven Democrats and one Independent, then adopted a motion submitted by Tom Maxwell, Eldorado, by a vote of 13 to 9, to drop the third candidate and vote again if the top man did not receive a majority of 12 or more.

A motion to conduct the voting by secret ballot was beaten down, 16 to 3, with three voting present, after Harvey DeVar of Harrisburg declared he was strongly opposed to it, stating he believed the electors should know how their officers stood on matters.

No Majority on First Vote

On the first ballot nobody got a majority, Patterson getting 10, Gates six and Blackman four. The voting went like this:

Patterson: Virgil Ferrell, Chas. Skaggs, Harvey DeVar, John Lockwood, William Douglas and Vernon Smith, all Harrisburg township Republicans; Bert Jones (D Raleigh), Kenneth Jackson (R Long Branch), Patterson (R Tate) and William Alfred Smith (R Galatia).

Gates: Aubrey Giles, Tom Maxwell, Roy Moore and Ivan Wilson, all Eldorado Democrats; Gates (R Cottage and Lee Porter (Independent) Rector.

Blackman: R. E. Field and Chas. Pritchett, Carrier Mills Republicans; Herman McFarlin (R Independence) and Blackman (R Stonefort).

Waldo Abney (D Brushy) and Claude Moore (D Mountain) voted "present" during the balloting.

Patterson Gets Majority

With Blackman eliminated, another ballot was taken, with Patterson getting 12 votes, a majority. The vote for Gates then was not taken.

Voting for Patterson on the second ballot were Ferrell, Skaggs, DeVar, Lockwood, Douglas, Vernon Smith, Pritchett, McFarlin, Jones, Jackson, Patterson and William Alfred Smith.

Patterson then took the chair and pledged to do his best as head of the committee. He then asked Virgil Ferrell to lead in prayer.

Aubrey Giles, Eldorado Democrat, said "we have a Christian gentleman as our new chairman and we all should back him."

Before the committees were named to act during the next year, business included the following: Raymond Field reported that the work that has so greatly improved the court house clock tower is practically completed.

To Install Flasher Signals

William Alfred Smith offered a resolution, which was passed, instructing the clerk to photostat copies of the minutes of all county board meetings and mail a copy to each member not more than 10 days after the meeting.

R. D. Brown, highway superintendent, reported on a hearing attended by Atty. L. M. Hancock, Supervisor Herman McFarlin and himself before the Illinois Commerce commission at Springfield to discuss flasher signals across roads where the New York Central will build a railroad spur to a new mine that will be started in Independence township.

It was agreed, he said, that the railroad will install flasher signals at two places: Where the line will cross Route 45 near Ledford and where it will cross a heavily used gravel road in Independence west of Walnut Grove school.

U. S. Discloses H-Warhead for Use on Missile

Secret Testimony
By AF Officials to Committee Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States disclosed Sunday it has perfected a hydrogen bomb warhead for use on the ocean-spanning intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM) now under development.

The Air Force said that it will be only a matter of time — how much it did not specify — before the ICBM is ready for use. It said no new inventions are needed to make construction of the dreaded missile possible but conceded a vast amount of engineering work must be done.

The city-wrecking missile is sometimes called the "ultimate weapon." Officials have said it could span the ocean and come crashing down on an unsuspecting city at several times the speed of sound.

Russian Claims Discounted

Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev said in London recently that Russia soon will have a missile equipped with an H-bomb warhead which would be capable of hitting any target in the world. But U. S. officials discounted this, saying it will be five to 10 years before the ICBM is perfected.

The Air Force disclosed U. S. development of an H-bomb warhead light and handy enough to fit on an ICBM in secret testimony March 6 before a House appropriations subcommittee. The heavily-censored testimony was made public Sunday.

Maj. Gen. S. R. Brentnall, Assistant Air Force Chief of Staff for Guided Missiles, told the House subcommittee "the advent of lightweight, high-yield warheads made ballistic missiles attractive because it simplified many problems and insured that thermonuclear weapons would be light and handy enough to be carried by long-range missiles of reasonable size."

Murphysboro Man To Address County Historical Society

The Saline County Historical society will hold its regular meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the club room of the Mitchell-Carnegie library.

Charles R. Rann of the Carrier Mills high school will sing "Home" and "O, What a Beautiful Morning," for musical entertainment for the meeting.

Roger Q. Kimmel, Murphysboro, will be the featured speaker for the meeting. His subject will be "Egypt—Rare and Unusual Papers and Items." Mr. Kimmel collects first editions of books, publications, etc., and also rare and unusual historical items. His collection is extensive and interesting and probably contains more items than any other collection in southern Illinois.

Mr. Kimmel is active in historical research and he is a member of the board of directors of the Southern Illinois Historical society. The social hour will be in charge of J. M. Burley, chairman, and her committee, Mrs. John Foster, Miss Elsa Tyndall and Mrs. J. D. Morse.

Fire Damages Home At Carrier Mills

The home of Mrs. Ed Kinney, Carrier Mills, was badly damaged this morning by fire that was discovered at 6:30.

The attic was completely burned out and the back rooms of the house were gutted, but the front part escaped with only scorched floors and walls, it is reported.

Most of the furniture also was carried out and escaped fire or water damage.

The Harrisburg fire trucks were called to the scene when it was feared that adjoining homes might catch fire. However, the flames were kept under control and did not spread.

Fire Damage to Little Wabash Bridge Insufficient to Cause Rebuilding

Damage by fire on March 28 to the Little Wabash river bridge on Illinois Route 141 leading to the Wabash Memorial bridge northwest of Mt. Vernon was not sufficient to necessitate the rebuilding of the small span.

Illinois Highway Department engineers have completed their test of steel and concrete and have recommended some adjustments and replacements but rebuilding of the span will not be necessary.

A workman's torch set fire to straw used as winter insulation between the floor and under-structure of the bridge and the flames spread to wooden timbers, subjecting the bridge to great heat.

Work Will Be Speeded

Repair of the fire damage to the Little Wabash bridge will be rushed by the contractor, Culbertson Construction Co.

Movie for Junior High Students Tuesday; HTHS Groups to Rule City Gov't

"The Long Gray Line," a sparkling technicolor movie featuring Tyrone Power and Maureen O'Hara, will be the feature event for local junior high students at the Elks National Youth Day observances tomorrow morning at the Grand theatre. The entertaining film, which tells the story of Sgt. Martin Maher, long-time staff member at West Point, was selected as being particularly appropriate for Youth Day showing.

The observance gets underway at 10 a. m. tomorrow, with a few remarks by State Senator Glen O. Jones, followed by the movie.

HTHS students, meanwhile, will take over the reins of Harrisburg city government for the day, followed by a banquet Tuesday evening at the Elks lodge for city officials and the students who took their places for the day.

State Humane Societies Vote Thanks to Gov. Stratton for Banning Bull Fights

Humane societies from Illinois attended a meeting of the Illinois State Federation of Humane societies, held Saturday at the Palmer House in Chicago, and action included a vote of thanks to Gov. William G. Stratton for his announcement that he would not tolerate a bull fight at the West-ern Illinois Fair in Griggsville.

The members voiced their faith in the governor's announcement that he would prevent the encounter, bloodless bull fight or otherwise, scheduled for the Griggsville, Ill., fair June 30.

(The United Press today carried a story from Griggsville which said: "The Western Illinois fair today surrendered to 'pressures' being brought upon Gov. William G. Stratton" and scheduled wild braham bull riding instead of the bull fights it had planned.")

The federation elected officers for the fiscal year as follows: President, Allen Glisch of the Animal Welfare league, Chicago; first vice president, Mrs. Tim Turner, Harrisburg Humane society; second vice president, Dr.

Indiana and Illinois Highway Department engineers assigned to bridge and road construction on both sides of the Wabash river will continue to push construction so as to permit an early dedication of the main bridge, as possible.

P. C. Petard, Illinois Highway Department engineer assigned to the Little Wabash bridge, said today that the main body of concrete and steel withstood the effects of the fire. Some work will be necessary to straighten expansion devices. Four feet of concrete on each end of the bridge; two patches, six-by-seven feet, of bridge floor; a full width, six-foot strip of concrete in the center, and five sections of sidewalk will be replaced. Robert Culbertson of the construction firm hopes to replace the damaged concrete in two weeks.

Sandblasting Of Steel

All steel will be sandblasted and will receive a coating of red lead paint and two coatings of aluminum paint. The entire under-structure will receive a treatment of Gunitite (concrete applied by hose line) to insure the bearing girders.

During the coming fall, the entire Little Wabash bridge will receive an application of 1 1/2 inches of 1-11 black top.

Millon Tuley, construction superintendent of Feigl Construction Co., Evansville, contractor for Indiana highway leading to Wabash Memorial bridge, foresees the completions of the last section of road leading into Mt. Vernon around May 20 or a few days earlier.

All rough grading for the last section of highway is complete.

Pouring of 7,100 feet of 22-foot concrete and 455 feet of 44-foot concrete will start around May 9 and should be poured in eight days, Tuley said.

At the last meeting of the board, a lease for eight rooms in the Clinic building, was ratified by the members. The lease goes into effect tomorrow.

Dr. James H. Wells, health officer, today said he hoped that the office here would be set up sufficiently to get into operations tomorrow.

Joseph Spurlock, 80, resident of Harrisburg, died at 10:30 a. m. today in the Eldorado nursing home.

The body lies in state at the Gibbons funeral home and further detail and funeral arrangements will be announced tomorrow.

Action Comes as Dulles Appeals To Congress

Secretary Testifies
Before Senate Foreign Relations Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower called top ranking Democratic and Republican congressional foreign policy experts to a White House conference late today, presumably to discuss the administration's foreign aid program.

Invited were Chairman Walter F. George (Ga.) and Sen. H. Alexander Smith (N.J.), ranking Republican member of the Senate Foreign Affairs committee—Chairman James P. Richards (SC) and Rep. Robert Chipperfield (R-Ill.).

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Wilton B. Parsons, deputy assistant to the President, also will participate in the meeting.

The White House said only that the President called the meeting "to discuss matters affecting the foreign policy of the United States."

Dulles Urges Approval

The announcement came even as Dulles urged Congress to approve in full the administration's $4,900,000,000 foreign aid program as "part of a national insurance policy" against the still "serious threat of Soviet communism."

Dulles made his plea in testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations committee. His appearance signaled the start of an administration campaign to persuade a dubious Congress to approve the big foreign aid program, including a new provision for long-term economic aid commitments.

Dulles said Russia has changed its tactics because the effective-

Att'y Harry McCabe Is Appointed U. S. Commissioner

Atty. Harry McCabe received notice today of his appointment as U. S. commissioner for the Harrisburg area.

McCabe received notification of the appointment in a letter from Federal Judge Casper Platt of the U. S. Court, Eastern district.

The appointment is effective May 1.

Atty. McCabe, a native of Stonefort, has practiced law in Harrisburg for the past four years.

He succeeds the late Atty. W. W. Damron, who was the federal commissioner at the time of his death in March, 1955. Atty. Damron had received the appointment Nov. 13, 1953, replacing Atty. Charles E. Combe, who had served as commissioner for years.

The Farm Bill Veto

Editorial — BY BRUCE BISSAT President Eisenhower's veto of the 1956 farm bill was undoubtedly the toughest single decision he has had to make in the domestic field since he took office more than three years ago.

Leading farm state Republicans, many Democrats and a considerable number of farmer spokesmen exercised enormous pressure on the President to sign the bill.

From many came the warning that a veto could spell a major farm revolt at the polls in this presidential election year. Unrest in midwestern farm areas is acknowledged, and the Minnesota and Wisconsin primaries suggested some of this may turn into Democratic votes in November.

Despite it all, Mr. Eisenhower stood firm in behalf of the flexible price support principle to which he and Secretary of Agriculture Benson have long committed themselves.

The farm bill passed by Congress still asserts that principle, but in fact it is reduced to tatters by a series of hashed-up amendments whose purpose is to restore the old rigid high price supports for major crops.

Unhappily, the bill was such a hodgepodge at the end that even farm experts could not be sure how it would work in practice.
Thus patched together on the Senate floor and in Senate-House conference, it was not a model of good legislation.

Mr. Eisenhower saw it as a bad bill, even though it contained the "soil bank" feature he so earnestly desired to help slash the mountain of farm surpluses towering over the nation's farmers. In his veto message, he appealed for a new measure setting forth this plan alone.

Obviously, too, he was concerned to add right now to the income of farmers plagued by falling prices, drought and the uncertainty over farm legislation.

He promised to take prompt action to raise price supports on five basic crops: dairy products, and perishable farm commodities. The increases should hike farmers' 1956 income by more than half a billion dollars, though this would be well short of what they could have realized under the vetoed measure.

In no case would the boosts bring the support level to the 90 per cent plane sought by backers of rigid supports.

Speculation will be great as to how much damage the President may have done his political cause by this veto. First samplings from farmers suggest that the reaction will be far from uniform.
Many farmers disapprove of high supports. Others admire Mr.
Eisenhower for sticking to his guns. Still others, smarting under the income drop, nevertheless stand with the President because they link him with peace and general mastery of world affairs.
Some think the bill was approved too late by Congress and thus wouldn't have helped enough in 1956, anyway.

But unquestionably a good many will see in this action reason for turning their troubled feelings into anti-administration votes next November.

In the interest of consistency, adherence to principle, and what he considered good farm policy, Mr. Eisenhower decided he had no choice but to dare the wrath of these farmers—however large or small they might bulk at voting time.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Congressman Ayres Had Friend Who Supplied Him
Baby Booklets: That Was How John Maragon, The Influence Peddler, Was Able To Get A Job: Russia Is Far Ahead Of U. S. A. In Submarines.

WASHINGTON. — Some people have lifted their eyebrows over the fact that I recently helped get a job for John Maragon, the Kansas City bootblack and influence peddler whom I earlier helped send to jail. They recall that was partly over Maragon and his friend Gen. Harry Vaughn and that President Truman called me some choice epithets; so some readers wonder whether I've gone soft of late.

It's true that Maragon's trip to Potsdam with the President, his demotion of Gen. Wm. L. Lee, his dabbling in black-market diamonds at Potsdam, his gifts of black-market perfume to various cabinet ladies were first exposed in this column. He retaliated by calling me a liar, and later was convicted of perjury.

However, John Maragon was a little frog way over his head in a big pond. He was nowhere near as bad as some of the really big influence peddlers, both then and now. And having served his time, it seems to me he deserves a break. The job he has as day laborer in the House folding room isn't going to hurt the taxpayers, and all reports are that he's more than earning his modest pay.

HOW TO GET FREE LITERATURE

Some interesting things have been taking place in the House folding room where John Maragon is now employed. They occurred before he got his job, and involve the man he is supposed to have replaced—Ralph Scalzo. Actually Scalzo lost his job on Jan. 30, two months before Maragon was hired. Nevertheless, GOP Congressman William Ayres of Akron made headlines by charging that Scalzo was fired to make room for Maragon.

Here are the interesting facts, however, as to why Scalzo was fired:

The House folding room is a place where congressmen get speeches folded and mailed out to voters free. They can also get booklets on baby care, and various government documents mailed to the home folks either at cost or—up to a certain limit—free.

House doorkeeper Luke Hicks has now obtained sworn affidavits to the effect that extra documents, beyond the congressman's quota, were delivered to the office of Congressman Ayres under the direction of Scalzo, the man Ayres didn't want fired.

"On several occasions," states an affidavit by Otis Small, a laborer in the folding room, "I was ordered by Scalzo to deliver to Congressman Ayres 300 'How Our Laws Are Made'."

"The secretary in the congressman's office told me to put them down by one of the desks in the office. There was no order taken by me and none signed by the secretary."

Another folding-room laborer, William H. Brooker, reports that last summer Scalzo told him to deliver about 100 copies of the $2 agriculture yearbook to Ayres, plus about 40 or 50 maps, about 500 copies of "How Our Laws Are Made," and three cases of a booklet on infant care.

Congressman Ayres was entitled to 40 free copies of "How Our Laws Are Made." Beyond that he was supposed to pay 15 cents each. A congressman is allowed 400 copies of the agriculture yearbook and 50 maps in toto. The allowment for baby care booklets is much more generous—500 per month.

This was the reason Scalzo was fired. It was not to make room for John Maragon.

DIPLOMATIC POUCH

The U. S. has quietly banned the were driving around in big Cadilstarving. This was so bad for the people's morale that American advisers recommended halting automobile imports to Indochina, except strictly for relief and rehabilitation work.

Martha Raye Denies Stealing Affections Of Patrolman; Faces $50,000 Suit

WESTPORT, Conn. (U.P.) — Television comedienne Martha Raye and a handsome young policeman today denied charges by the patrolman's wife that Miss Raye stole his affections while he worked as her body guard.

Mrs. Barbara Anne O'Shea, 20, wife of Patrolman Robert O'Shea, 27, and mother of his 16-day-old baby, made the charges in a $50, 000 alienation of affections suit against Miss Raye.

"Miss Raye is completely shocked at this totally unexpected action," her attorney, Shirley Woolf, said in Miami Beach, Fla. "She has never had any romantic alliances with Mr. O'Shea."

"It's all gossip and it's a frame-up," a friend of O'Shea quoted the policeman as saying. "I haven't even seen Miss Raye recently."

Mrs. O'Shea said her tall, slim and handsome husband took a part-time off-duty job late last year as Miss Raye's bodyguard and soon made it apparent that his interest in the five-times-married comedienne was more than professional.

The young wife charged that her husband walked out on her the day she brought their baby home from the hospital last week and said he was in love with Miss Raye.
O'Shea's family sided with his wife in the dispute and at one time his brother and O'Shea got into a fist fight in Miss Raye's Westport home.

Granite City Man Gives 50th Pint of Blood

GRANITE CITY, Ill. (U.P.) — A Gran-banks.

Ronald Earl Clare, 48-year-old honored by the Granite City Ki-

The award included a $25 sav-

46 Senators, 119 Legislators Draw Their State Pay

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.) — A total of 46 senators and 119 representatives drew their $5,000 annual salaries in January totaling $825,000, State Auditor Orville E. Hodge reported today.
The legislators may elect to take the $10,000 biennial salaries

all at one time, or $5,000 annually.
In January, 1955, five senators were paid their $10,000 salaries; 46 took half of the biennial salary.
A total of 33 representatives elected to receive the $10,000 salary all at one time, and the remaining 119 received half-payment, Hodge said.
The 1955 total payment was $1,205,000 plus a $10,000 appropriation to the estate of the late Mrs.
Hazel A. McCaskrin, Rock Island, who died before taking office as representative.

Boy Scouts Brave Blustery Wind to Visit Lincoln Tomb

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — Almost 5,000 Scouts braved blustery winds and unspringlike temperatures Sunday to pay homage to Abraham Lincoln.

The Scouts, including Cubs, Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts from 64 Illinois cities, formed in troops at the Sangamon County Court House — once the state capitol where Lincoln served in the state Legislature — and marched behind their colors and several bands to the Lincoln Tomb in Oak Ridge Cemetery.

Scout and city officials joined in the ceremonies, the 11th annual Lincoln pilgrimage sponsored by the Abraham Lincoln Boy Scout Council here.

Dr. Marcus Bach, associate director of the department of religion at the University of Iowa was principal speaker for the pilgrimage ceremonies.

Northern U. S. Hit by Snow

By United Press

A phenomenal April cold wave piled up more than a foot of snow in the North and sent flood waters racing through major cities.

The storm's snows, rains, and death-dealing tornadoes lapsed into a vast, chill today, although heavy thunderstorms continued to batter Dallas and Fort Worth.

It was below freezing from Montana eastward to the upper Great Lakes. Metropolitan Detroit, and Gary, Ind., cleaned up from flash floods. Residents dug out of heavy snowfalls in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, and Iowa.

The cold front drove southeastward today, leaving at least two dead in weekend tornadoes and a mounting toll of weather-caused traffic fatalities.

The tornado deaths were both in Illinois, where a storm described as a twister hit Litchfield Saturday night, overturning a small boat and drowning two men. There were three deaths on Wisconsin's snowy highways and two of them broke a record of 857 days without a traffic fatality in La Crosse.

Early Sheriffs

In early Saxon times, the representative of the king for judicial and tax purposes was the shire-reeve, from which comes our word "sheriff." The shire-reeve presided over the shire court.

House Group Approves New Farm Measure

WASHINGTON (UP) — A new catch-all farm bill was approved unanimously today by the House Agriculture Committee.

It contained the administration-sponsored 1.2 billion dollar soil bank plan. But the committee rejected on a straight 19-15 party line vote a Republican attempt to provide 500 million dollars in "prepayments" from the bank this year.

Other congressional news:

Marines: The House Armed Services Committee decided to hold public hearings Tuesday to get "all the details" on the deaths of six Marine recruits on a night swamp march at the Parris Island, N. C., training base earlier this month. Gen. Randolph McC. Pate, Marine Corps commandant who made a personal investigation of the tragedy, will be the first witness.

Civil Rights: Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.) urged President Eisenhower to support the civil rights bill approved by the House Judiciary Committee last week. Roosevelt said in a letter to Mr. Eisenhower that "partisan politics have and will be played with" the bill unless the President prevents it.

Contempt: The Senate Judiciary committee recommended filing contempt of Congress charges against four New York newspapermen who refused to answer Senate Internal Security subcommittee questions dealing with alleged Communist affiliations. The citations were recommended for Seymour Peck, Alden Whitman and Robert Shelton, all of the New York Times, and William A. Price of the New York Daily News.

ENGAGED—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boyd of Chicago Ridge, Ill., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Anita, to Glenn Boyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ardwin M. Boyer of Chicago Ridge. Mr. Boyd formerly operated the Dixie Cream Donut and Sandwich shop on Vine street in Harrisburg.

Boy Drowns

PEORIA (UP) — A 9-year-old boy drowned Saturday in the Peoria YMCA swimming pool, apparently after he struck his head on the bottom of the pool.

The boy was George Ulmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ulmer, Peoria.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of our mother, Mrs. Nellie Mooneyham, who passed away 2 years ago today, on April 30, 1954:
The rolling stream of time flows on
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile
Of mother, who once sat there.
The flowers we lay upon your grave
May wither and decay,
But the love we have for you, dear,
Will never fade away.
A loving mother, so true and kind,
No friend on earth like her we find;
For all of us she did her best,
May God grant her eternal rest.
Sadly missed by her children.

Oily Head "Case"

The huge head of the sperm whale has a "case" which contains from 15 to 25 barrels of valuable sperm oil. This oil is so highly productive in its light quality that today candlepower is measured by the sperm candle.

Lisa Kyriakides thought the whole mission odd indeed and too shrouded in mystery and unsaid things. It was the first time that Dr. Thackeray had withheld any details from her. But Lisa knew, in the very short time that the Underground had formed, that unquestioning discipline was a requisite. She did not question him; at the same time, she didn't like it.

To travel to far-off Larissa to bring down a lone British escapee was too much to swallow. Perhaps he was an officer of high rank or some functionary in the new Underground—perhaps he was no escapee at all, Lisa thought.

"You will leave for Dadi tonight. Once there, a girl named Eleftheria Yalouris will meet you. She will travel with you to a village named Kaloghriani. She will introduce you to a man you will know only as Vassili. You identify yourself at Helena. You are not to question him."

Lisa nodded and studied his stone face.

"Our people in Dadi will arrange his travel pass, papers and change his appearance. They will pass pay-off money on the train he rides. You are to spare nothing in your power to insure his safety. Is that clear?"

"Yes," Lisa whispered.

"Once you arrive in Athens take him to Labarus' and contact me immediately."

Lisa repeated the instructions and checked her papers and money.

Papa-Panos, the little priest, entered the room. "Come, children," he said. "It is time to eat."

"Yes," Dr. Thackeray said. "I'd better eat and get along. I would n't want my two German friends to stand outside in the rain too long."

They walked from the room toward the kitchen. Before they entered, Dr. Thackeray turned suddenly and faced the woman. "Lisa, you seem upset today. Is anything wrong?"

"Wrong? No—no—of course not."

"One more thing, Lisa. In the event that something goes sour, if capture seems imminent—you are to kill him. He is not to be taken alive by the Germans."

As they entered the kitchen Lisa's mind was spinning a plan furiously. A plan that could save her children—but would make her a traitor to her own people.

Konrad Heiser groaned, sprawling into a sitting position on the couch. His head throbbed.

Zervos, the fat swine, had thrown a four-day orgy to celebrate the acquisition of his new apartment house.

A scummy government clerk. Zervos was getting too big, too fast. He was currying the favor of everyone with promises of more fabulous parties.

He'd lay the law down to Zervos, show the Greek pig who was who. Zervos had promised 10 million drachmas a month to Heiser so that he could run his little extortion game. Heiser would demand double that.

Konrad Heiser shuffled through the papers on his desk. Escapees were everywhere. The filthy British roamed the length and breadth of the land. Now there were reports of an Underground movement becoming more active daily.

But this was not the main problem. The main problem was the Greeks working inside the German Command who were pilfering in formation.

Who knew where the American was now? Each day he remained free the threat increased. If the names fell into British hands there would be no stopping an Underground that knew what the German movements would be.

A knock on the door. Zervos entered.

Heiser glared at him in disgust. His tailor-made suit and vest were of some weird color, and he was fatter than ever. Diamond stick pin, diamond cufflinks, four diamond rings. Zervos walked up to Heiser's desk without a trace of the old fear.

"We have an appointment to meet Lisa Kyriakides in an hour. Konrad," Zervos glared in the newly found equality which allowed him to call Heiser by his Christian name. "I think it is about time we dispose of her."

"I still run this department, Mr. Zervos. So long as there is a chance that one of these people will lead us to Morrison, we cannot dispose of them."

"Put in Lisa's case," Zervos continued, "she will not give information. You know that. It is foolish to allow her to run around free. The least we could do is put a watch on her."

"You idiot! Put a watch on her and the Underground would know it in five minutes. No. Zervos, she will obey us as long as we hold her children."

Lisa Kyriakides walked across Constitution Square toward the row of shops facing it on Hermes Street. Men—Greek, German and Italian—all turned and watched her pass. She looked straight ahead, neither ignoring nor acknowledging the stares that followed her.

For Lisa had been endowed with a striking beauty that could impress itself on a memory even if seen only as a face in a passing crowd.

The lines of her face were curved to perfection and set in a halo of golden hair—rare for a Greek. Her complexion was a shade lighter olive than most Greeks'. She moved along Hermes Street with the grace and carriage of a noblewoman.

Lisa was thin, a bit too thin. But this seemed to add to her haunting loveliness.

Six Injured on MacArthur Bridge

EAST ST. LOUIS III. (AP)—Six persons were injured on the MacArthur Bridge between East St. Louis and St. Louis when the automobile in which they were riding slid 200 feet on its top.

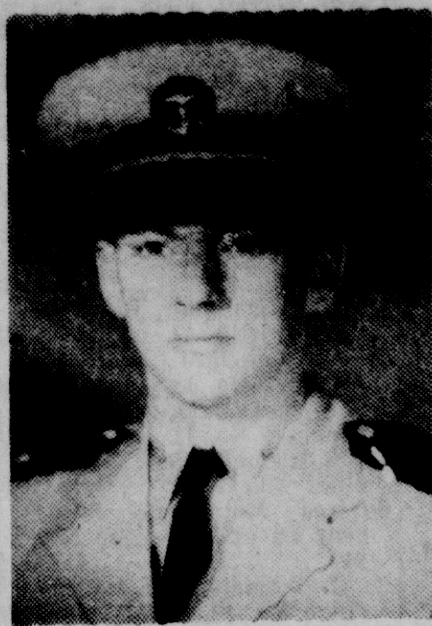

The occupants of the car had to climb out of rear windows or be taken out by ambulance attendants.

Most seriously hurt were Mrs. Margaret Foster, St. Louis, and Harold Williams, 21, Pevely, Mo.

Also treated at St. Mary's hospital in East St. Louis were the driver, Gerard Comisak, 22, St. Louis county, and Chandos Childs, James Medley and Charles Breeden, all of St. Louis.

East St. Louis police said the front wheel of Comisak's car apparently hit a curb as he attempted to pull back into his lane of traffic after passing another automobile.

Two Drown When Boat Capsizes on Litchfield Lake

LITCHFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A tornado-like squall capsized a small boat on Litchfield's new City Lake early Sunday, drowning two persons.

A third occupant of the boat, Edward Major, 42, Litchfield, managed to swim ashore. The others were identified as Lee T. Carroll, 45, and Ronald J. Musgrave, 17, both of Litchfield.

Major said the three went to the lake late Saturday to check on some trotlines Musgrave had placed in the water, and were returning to shore in an outboard motor boat when the wind struck.

The Litchfield fire department and first aid crews were summoned in an attempt to locate Carroll and Musgrave. Their bodies were found early Sunday.

A coroner's inquest ruled the deaths due to accidental drowning.

Musgrave, a senior at Litchfield high school, was an outstanding athlete at the school.

Thinking It Over

By Robert Dieffenbacher, D.D.
Written for NEA Service

Shoestrings always break when we're in a hurry to get dressed. "I knew I should have gotten a new pair yesterday," you say to yourself, "but I didn't think one would break this soon."

The string really was not too badly worn but you put off the little purchase in favor of doing other things. We all delay taking care of little things which may really be quite important.

"Many little things are vital in their relationships to big things. Little nails hold big buildings together. Small links, when joined, make a chain."

Many items which seem insignificant in themselves are key parts of the whole. We really have to take care of details if we are going to benefit from the big things of which they are a part.

Furthermore, you were in a hurry when you broke the shoestring. You were under an added strain, so you tugged harder than usual.

The extra pull broke the material and you were delayed.

There are so many little tensions which result in added strains. We overlook the control of our muscles, our emotions, and our tongues. Little added strains disturb us and we do or say something which we had not meant to do or say.

THRILLS, ANYONE?

JUST SIT HERE AND SWITCH THE PITCH!

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM.

smoother and safer and downright spectacular a car's take-off can be—until you actually switch Dynaflo's pitch for full-power performance like never was in earth-bound travel.

Nor—in advance—can you sense the soaring sweep and unstinting obedience of this big new 322-cubic-inch Buick V8 engine. At a legal 50 m.p.h. it literally loafs along at only 10% of its full power—barely ever breathing hard, and so saving gas, staying young, lasting longer.

It's a continuous thrill—that's for certain—mile on mile, in traffic and out, at sea level or climbing toward the clouds.

So—how about giving this a try?

How about running the gamut of Buick excitements at the wheel of a '56 Buick SPECIAL, CENTURY, SUPER or ROADMASTER?

And how about the ultimate thrill—when you hear what your present car is worth in trade?

Want to make it here—and now?

Needles Rated Derby Choice

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Needles threaded his way past all the other solid contenders today for Saturday's Kentucky Derby and he was rated as a probable 2-1 choice in the betting in a field that now was down to about 12 colts.

Needles established his position on a "stand-by" basis while other colts eliminated themselves. The fellow hasn't had a race since he won the Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park on March 24, but meanwhile, the others have been hurting themselves.

Two of the stronger entrants, C. V. Whitney's Career Boy and Calumet's Pintor Lea, were nursing injuries today which detracted from their appeal, although Career Boy was almost certain to be around when the band plays "My Old Kentucky Home" late Saturday afternoon.

Career Boy developed a bruise on his rear heel Saturday and at first it appeared he would be out of it. But after treatment by Trainer Sylvester Veitch, he galloped a mile with ease Sunday.

At the Calumet barn, veteran Trainer Ben Jones hoped Pintor Lea would recover from a sore knee by Saturday, but listed the colt as "a very doubtful starter." With Pintor Lea out of it, Calumet would have to depend on his stablemate Favius in the derby. Pintor Lea finished third to Needles in the Florida Derby.

So far "sure starters" for the derby include Needles, Head Man, Favius, Count Chic, Terrance, High King, Reaping Right, Ben A. Jones, Besomer and No Regrets. Jean Baptiste, who is expected to be given a chance at the big race, will arrive here today.

National guard divisions made up two-fifths of the American expeditionary forces in Europe during World War I.

Charles Carroll Runs Fourth in Record-Breaking 100-Yard-Dash

Charles Carroll, Harrisburg Township high school graduate, finished fourth in the record-breaking 100-yard dash in the Drake Relays Saturday.

Carroll, student at Northwestern university, was a track star at HTHS and won fame as a sprinter while serving in the Armed Forces. Following his discharge he enrolled at Northwestern.

The 100-yard dash in the famed Drake Relays, held at Des Moines, Iowa, was won by David Sime of Duke in 1954. The old record was .09.5, first set by Roland Locke of Nebraska in 1926 and later tied by Ralph Metcalf of Marquette in 1933 and Jesse Owens of Ohio State in 1935.

Phil Coleman, former SIU distance star, won the invitational mile run in 4:19.0. Coleman was representing the Chicago Track and Field association.

Wally Post Sparks Reds to 2 Wins Over Cubs; Pirates Sweep Two from Dodgers

By United Press

Wally Post's weekend slugging binge earned him the major league home run lead with seven today and enabled the Cincinnati Reds to remain unbeaten since Ted Kluszewski was benched.

Post, who hit 40 homers last season but labored in massive Kluszewski's shadow, walloped two homers and drove in four runs in each game Sunday to spark the Reds to 5-4 and 8-4 victories over the Chicago Cubs. The victories completed a sweep of the four-game set with the Cubs and lifted the hard-hitting Reds to the .500 mark with a 5-5 season record.

The 26-year old Post, a native of St. Wendelin, Ohio, hit a pair of two-run homers to drive in the Reds' first four runs in the opener and wound up his big day with a three-run blast and a solo homer in the nightcap. He is tied with teammate Ray Jablonski for the National league lead with 13 runs batted in.

Wally had plenty of assistance from his hard-hitting teammates, as Ed Bailey homered for the decisive run in the eighth inning of the opener and rookie Frank Robinson blasting a tremendous homer against a light tower in right center field in the second game.

Fowler Goes Route

Relief pitcher Buster Freeman received credit for his first win in the opener while Art Fowler went the route for his first victory in the nightcap. The Cubs now have dropped five straight and are in the N. L. cellar.

The threat of a runaway similar to last year diminished, meanwhile, when the Pittsburgh Pirates surprised the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers by sweeping a doubleheader, 10-1 and 11-3. Catcher Jack Shepard drove in five runs with two homers and Bob Friend pitched a six-hitter for his second win in the first game. In the second game, Frank Thomas and pitcher Vern Law homered to lead Pittsburgh's 16-hit attack.

The setbacks snapped a Brooklyn five-game winning streak and made the Dodgers' season record 7-4. They didn't lose their fourth game last year until May 12—by which time they had won 22 games.

Ramon Monzant, 23-year old Venezuelan right-hander who said during spring training that he might not pitch this year, hurled a one-hitter to give the New York Giants an 8-1 triumph after the Philadelphia Phillies won the opener, 5-4, on pitcher Jack Meyer's 10th-inning homer.

In the American league, the Cleveland Indians split their doubleheader with the Detroit Tigers and the Baltimore Orioles divided with the Washington Senators.

Three-Hit Performance

Bill Tuttle's 10th inning homer gave the Tigers a 1-0 victory in their opener despite a brilliant, 13-strikeout, three-hit performance by Herb Score. Billy Hoeltz allowed nine hits but pitched out of several jams to win his first game. It was the second 1-0 loss of the year for Score, who has struck out 31 batters and yielded only 10 hits in 28 innings this year.

Vic Wertz and Al Smith hit two homers each in the nightcap and Bob Lemon pitched steady seven-hit ball to beat the Tigers, 8-4. It was Lemon's second win and second complete game. He won 18 games last year but pitched only five complete contests.

Hal Smith, Billy Gardner and Tito Francona homered to lead the Orioles to an 8-6 decision but Dick Fetterbach's ninth inning single drove in the winning run as the Senators won the second game, 5-4.

St. Louis at Milwaukee in the N. L., and New York at Boston and Kansas City at Chicago in the A. L. were rained out.

Brilliant Olympic Track Team Certain
By Talent Shown in Penn, Drake Relays

By United Press

The nod went to the Penn relays in its annual "paper duel" with the Drake relays for the best winning performances, but track observers agreed that the real winner in the weekend carnivals was the U. S. Olympic team.

So much talent was displayed in both meets, and in the invitational meet at Dallas, Tex., the United States now seems certain to have another brilliant Olympic track team this winter.

Blessed with good weather on both days, the Penn relays produced 9 records, plus 3 more equalled. Poor weather at Des Moines, Iowa, limited the record total to 2, while the Dallas quadrangular meet had 7.

Here's how the tournaments stacked up against each other on paper:

There were 18 events that could be compared between the Penn games at Philadelphia and the Drake games. Winning performances at Penn were better in 11 at Drake in 6, and 1 was even.

In 11 comparable events at all three meets, Penn had the best winning time or distance in 6 Drake in 3, and Dallas in 2.

Among the outstanding Olympic candidates on display were:

A number of top sprinters who are doing 9.6 seconds or better for the 100, topped by Dave Sime, the Duke sophomore, who won the event at Drake in 9.4 seconds, and including Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian, Bobby Whilden of Texas, and John Haines of Penn.

A big group of rapidly improving shot putters, who figure to follow world champion Parry O'Brien on to the Olympic team. Heading this group was Ken Bantum of Manhattan, with a 59 foot, 1 1/4 inch heave at Penn.

A bevy of brilliant quarter-milers and half-milers, including Jay W. Mashburn of Oklahoma A&M, Charley Jenkins of Villanova Herb Washington of Morgan State, and Arnie Sowell of Pittsburg.

Villanova, including two record performances among its three relay performances, was the top relay winner at the Penn games, but a key man for the Wildcats is Irishman Ron Delany, who will be running for Erin in the Olympics. The Oxford University team made a successful visit to Penn, taking the 4-mile and 2-mile relay titles back to England.

Southern California, preparing for a shot at its eighth straight team championship, dominated the Dallas games—held only on Friday night—and set 6 of the 7 meet records there.

Bull Dogs Score
15, Eldorado 9,
At Herrin Relays

Harrisburg scored 15 points and Eldorado nine in the Herrin Relays Saturday night.

East St. Louis won the big relay meet with Centralia second and Carmi finishing in third place.

Tony Beal scored seven of Harrisburg's points with a second place in the shot and third in the discus. Beal heaved the shot 50 feet, nine inches, only an inch short of the 50-10 winning mark by Charles Hamilton of Herrin. Beal's third place discus throw was for a distance of 143-6.

Fred McKenzie was fourth in the high hurdles.

The sprint medley team of Jim Williams (440), Don Biggs (220), Bill Yates (220) and Byron Butterfield (880) was fourth.

The varsity 880-yard relay team of Williams, Biggs, Yates and McKenzie was fifth.

Eldorado's points came on a first place discus throw of 147-7 by Lindell Lovellette and fourth place by the 8-lap relay team of Frank Willis, Leonard Willis, Bob Watson and Roscoe Woods.

Eldorado's distance medley relay team finished first but was disqualified when officials ruled an Eldorado runner, in passing, cut in too quickly and threw the other runner off stride.

Harrisburg will enter the South Seven freshman-sophomore meet at West Frankfort tomorrow night and the South Seven varsity meet at West Frankfort Friday evening. Both events begin at 6 p. m.

Eldorado will participate in an invitational meet at Cairo Thursday and the Southern Illini conference meet at McLeansboro Saturday afternoon.

Cuba Crushes Revolt; Arrest Ex-President

HAVANA (UP)—The Cuban government announced today it had crushed a revolutionary outbreak in Matanzas, a seaport town 60 miles east of here, and that 11 rebels had been killed.

The government suspended constitutional guarantees to choke off further revolutionary threats and arrested former President Carlos Prío Socarras on charges he instigated the uprising.

Troops were posted at strategic points in Havana and public buildings were under heavy guard. President Gen. Fulgencio Batista was at his Camp Columbia military headquarters.

The suspension of constitutional guarantees — ending the right of public assembly and freedom of the press — was invoked for the first time since the abortive revolt at Santiago in July, 1953.

Government authorities said 11 persons were known dead and at least that many wounded in the Matanzas fighting between government and rebel forces. The army said three soldiers were wounded and that none were killed.

The fighting started at 10:30 a. m. Sunday when six truckloads of civilians attempted a frontal attack on the infantry garrison at Matanzas whose name means "slaughter."

The army said the attack was led by Reynold Garcia, a former employee of the Ministry of Communications during the Prío regime, and Julio Rodriguez, a former Havana policeman. Garcia was killed.

The outbreak began during Havana's weekly "news blackout" when no newspapers are published. It caught hundreds of American tourists unawares. Scores were stranded at the Varadero summer resort a few miles from Matanzas when police threw up roadblocks.

Prio Accused
A government communique on the uprising referred to a previous announcement which said orders had gone out from Prío's country farm for inception of a terrorist campaign designed to "create a revolutionary atmosphere." Batista overthrew the Prío government in a coup d'état in March, 1952, and the ousted president took exile in Miami.

Former President Prío returned from exile only six months ago. The government has accused him of masterminding all revolutionary disturbances in Cuba during recent weeks including riots by university students.

The body is at the Martin funeral home at which place the funeral will be held at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday. Rev. A. B. Clodfelter, Methodist minister, will officiate and burial will be in Wolf Creek cemetery.

Eisenhower Calls Leaders To Foreign Aid Meeting

ness of this country's foreign aid program and mutual security pacts had made it "unprofitable for the Soviets to follow their old policies."

But he warned that the Communist "new look" does not warrant "our curtailing our mutual security program."

President to Continue

"Nothing has yet happened to make it prudent to terminate or curtail the present program," he said.

"It would indeed be ironic if, now that the Soviet has begun giving aid to its allies in terms of billions, and offering economic aid to free nations in terms of hundreds of millions the United States should withdraw from that program which it invented and let the Soviet take over that field," Dulles told the Senate group.

Dulles, who recently advocated broadening the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to something more than a military pact, said he does not propose that the NATO council be used to distribute economic aid.

He said the Organization for European Economic Cooperation (OEEC) is "available for expansion of the NATO idea" and would be more useful in economic matters than the NATO council because it contains some countries such as Austria, Switzerland and Sweden which are not NATO members.

War Danger Lessens

However, Dulles said, "the danger of general war seems somewhat less, and that is an immense relief."

However, he said, "their change is not due to any spiritual conversion. They have not gotten religion. They realistically take account of what the free nations have done to make violence an unprofitable tactic."

Prepare Camp Breckinridge For Trainees

HENDERSON, Ky. (Special) — First elements of the summer training command headquarters for Camp Breckinridge will begin arriving there Tuesday, the Ft. Knox armored center announced Sunday.

About 20 officers and enlisted men of the staff agencies of Col. Charles J. Parsons, camp commander, will be on the post before May 15, the center related.

A hundred or more men in the advance headquarters detachment, under Lt. Col. Samuel J. Robinson, are getting the camp set to receive the cadre for the provisional training command. Support troops will be called in from Ft. Knox to accomplish various tasks of readying for the reservists and National Guardsmen from the 2nd Army area.

The first trainees will arrive June 17, the time when operations will be in full swing. Each training period will last 15 days with the peak load Aug. 5-18. Summer training will close Aug. 26, but in the past the provisional command had remained at Breckinridge into the fall.

Inspections of the summer facilities will be conducted by the Army before the June 17 opening. Units scheduled to train are the 100th division of the Kentucky guard, from Louisville; 83rd Infantry division, Ohio National Guard; 37th Infantry division, Ohio Guard; and the 166th regimental combat team of the Ohio Guard.

Littler Wins Rich Tourney

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UP) — Gene Littler, with $10,000 in his pocket as the result of winning the rich Tournament of Champions, said today the only part of his game he could really rely on these days was his putting.

"I spent so much time in the rough the last three days that I'm disgusted in my woods," said Littler. "But as long as the putting holds up I guess I shouldn't complain."

Littler not only won the $10,000 first prize but he will get another $7,000 from singer Frankie Laine, who purchased him in the Calcutta Pool for $16,500 and got back $69,500.

Littler won this tournament for the second year in a row with a seven-under par score for 72 holes of 281. That gave him a four-stroke advantage at the finish over Dr. Cary Middlecoff.

Middlecoff picked up $4,000 for second place, and the third place money of $2,200 went to veteran Lloyd Mangrum of Apple Valley, Calif., who had 288.

Tied at 289, each collecting $1,400, were Al Balding, Toronto, Ont., Shelley Mayfield, Westbury, N. Y., and Ted Kroll, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. In the 290 bracket came Dick Mayer, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Doug Ford, Mahopac, N. Y., and Gardner Dickinson, Panama City Beach, Fla., each getting $1,200.

Ike Discloses New Synthetic 'Natural' Rubber

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower told Congress today that industry has developed a synthetic "natural" rubber which promises a "vastly simplified" national security program in the future.

His report covered the disposal of government-built World War II synthetic rubber plants and the nation's present rubber requirements and resources.

The President said three companies, in new laboratory processes, have synthesized successfully a substitute material "with compositions and properties similar to natural rubber."

While current stockpiles of natural rubber are adequate, he said, development of the new product holds promise over the long run that the "maintenance of security would be vastly simplified."

It might be possible, Mr. Eisenhower said, to "produce types of rubber domestically which could take the place of natural rubber in large truck, bus and airplane tires."

Mr. Eisenhower said he believes private industry could be relied upon to advance the new synthetic processes from the laboratory to commercial production. He noted that some pilot plants for limited production already are under construction.

Buy's Father's Farm For $18,600 in Master- Of-Chancery Sale

Charles Hale bought the farm of his father, the late John Hale, for $18,600 at a master-in-chancery sale conducted Saturday on the south porch of the court house. John Hale died five years ago.

The farm, on Route 34 three miles north of Harrisburg, consists of 90 acres of land, a house and barn.

The bidding, conducted by Master in Chancery Kenneth D. Cummins, was between Hale and Ben Wintzer. Hale started the bids with $11,000 and they jumped $100 a bid until the $18,600 figure was reached and Hale got the farm.

Mother Killed While Driving to Church; Four Children Orphaned

CHICAGO (UP) — Four children were orphaned Sunday when their mother was killed in a train-car crash while driving to church.

The victim, Mrs. Rosemary Pohlmeier, 27, Northbrook, was driving across the Milwaukee Road tracks when a streamliner smashed into her car. She was the third person to die in similar accidents in this area within 24 hours.

Harold B. Garey, 38, Arlington Heights, and Rose Mary Schmuckle, 26, of Oak Park, were killed when a Milwaukee Road train rammed into their car in Morton Grove Saturday.

Iowa Checks Trucks From Illinois, Wisconsin To Enforce Gas Limit

DES MOINES (UP) — Twenty-one Treasury agents were stopping trucks entering Iowa from Illinois and Wisconsin today in what state officials described as the first "concentrated effort" to enforce the 20-gallon gasoline limit along the eastern border.

Earle Smith, director of gas tax collections, said agents were headquartered at Fort Madison, Agency, Ainsworth, Atalissa, Mechanicsville, Marion, and Jesup.

Iowa law prohibits truckers from entering Iowa with more than 30 gallons of gasoline in their tanks unless state fuel taxes have been paid on the excess.

Hatmaker Pleads Innocent to Charges In U. S. Indictment

NEW YORK (UP) — Chicago hatmaker Harry Lev pleaded innocent in Federal Court today to an indictment charging he conspired to defraud the United States in procuring government hat contracts.

Federal Judge Sidney Sugarman set bail at $1,000. He said a trial date would be set on May 21.

Lev's eight fellow-defendants had previously pleaded innocent to the indictment.
